COTTON CROP IN INDIA.

The London Shipping Go.effe of June 21st, says: The Indian crop has proved to be more abundant than was expected, and if the monsoon is detayed we shall probably find that the deficiency will not probably find that the deacency win hot exceed 100,000 bales. The latest advices state that the cotion was arriving at Bombay in unexpected large quantities; values were accordingly acmownat depressed, and it was even believed by some speculators that the rosults of the season's hipments would prove equal to last year. It will be safer, however, to reckon on a leficiency of from $3,000 to 100,000 bales. Unfortunately the "mackee," or assessment in kind, prevents the ryots from disposing of their produce as early or as roadily as they would otherwise do-par-ticularly, we believe, in the Dollarah district-an injustice which we hope to see

THE SUGAR SUPPLY. Some interesting statistics of the sup-ply of sugar are given in a recent issue of Journal Du Havre, which estimates the total supply, including the cane, beet, maple and date palm products of all sugar growing countries, at 2,300,000 tons, of which Cuba furnishes fully one-third. The Cuban product has, of course, been materially reduced by the war, which has destroyed a large number of plantations and diminished the available supply of farm labor in many of the richest and most fertile sections of the island. Out of 1500 plantations there are probably not twen-ty free from mortage and in workable condition, and while property only re-turns about 4 per cent, per annum under the most favorable circumstances, money ent supply of Cubs sugars for this mar-

SPECIAL NOTICES. The Shivering Season.

The loss to the laboring classes of the United States caused by fever and ague has been estimated at upward of two millions of dollars per annum. Whole settlements are sometimes prostrated by the disease, and it is rega ded, in some localities, as one of those visitations of providence which cannot be avoided. This is a mistake. As certainly as any of the evils which are invited by neglect may be forestalled by precaution-so cer-tainly may an attack of intermittent (or remittent) fever be prevented by invigorating in advance of the season, at which this soalmay, is the wisest policy; but it is consoling to know that where time has not been thus taken by the lorelock, and the paroxysms have actually commenced, a complete cure may, in all cases, be rapidly effected by the use of this powerful vegetable tonic. Schofield's Patent Cotton Press

THIS PRESS must commend itself to the cotion planters of the Southern States for durability, simplicity of construction, and case with which it can be operated by eith hand, horse, souter or steom power, the change from one to the other being effected in a ferminutes. A great satvantage this Press possesses, is that occupies for hand power only space of fourtieen feet square, and may be placed and operated in a gin-house, thus avoidin the nesessity of taking cotton out of the house to be packed. It can be used in any kind of weather; the Press being in the house, all dispenses to packing, as is the case with two deep servers. Another advantage is, when you get Schofield's Press, you have a Press for all time, and one not liable to docay or break, as is the case with the old wooden acrews and most other from screws and presses. This is evident from the fact that the screw is from, either wrought or cast, and the frames are of wrought from, and no part of the Press liable to decay touches the ground. The frames may be made of wood, at the option of the planter.

Planters may purchase either the acrew and not alone and put the frame and box of wood to it themselves, or may purchase the screw, not and frames, and put the wooden box to it themselves, or may purchase the screw, not and from frames, and put the wooden box, making the most complete Press in use. Presses complete, as last named, are in more general use, and give great satisfaction to all parties using them, as will be seen from letter in my possession, a few of which may be found elsewhere in this circular, and could farmish thousands. thousands.

Horse Power Press! PRICES SAME AS HAND POWER PRESS.

This Press, of two-horse power, may be of either cast or wrought-iron screws; wrong iron screws being cut with three-inch pitch for Horse Power. It may be put up sither w or without iron frames—an iron frame being preferable, as it cannot break, and will ne need repairs, as is the case with wood. In putting them up complete at my establishme they do not differ from the Hand Power only in pitch of thread of screw, and different it for fevers for working. One horse can pack five to eight hundred pounds on this Prof. J. S. SUHOFIELLE, Proprietor. That planters may get their Presses in time, will take in payment warehouse acceptance, due October 1, 1870, at cost prices, as above.

Schofield's Patent Cotton Press received the First Premium at the Georgia State Fair for 1869. It was proved superior to anything for plantation cotton packing on the ground. It is put up more substantially, is more simple and efficient than any cotton press in use. There is nothing complicated or to get out of order about it, and after being used twenty years, will be as good as new. Lever presses with not do, they will get out of order, and in a tew mouths become a useless article, and are displaced by a screw press.

This cotton press is ast displacing the old wood screw and other presses, and of over 500 presses sold last season. I have not beard a complaint from one; but on the contrary, am all in receipt of letters from the first plantem of all the Cotton States certifying to their efficacy, and expressing their opinion that it is superior to all others.

Also Wilcox's Improved Horse Power, Superior to any in use for Ginning Cotton, Made only at SCHOFIELD'S JRON WORKS, and in the proper Depot, MACON, 6.4.
